A Chance to Secure Home Sites.

Realizing that a demand prevailed for small home sites near the city limits of Paris, Messrs. Wakefield, Moore & Wakefield, who recently purchased of Nathan Bayless the Mitchell farm on the Clintonville pike, have cut the farm up into five acre tracts, each of which face on the pike, and will sell the lots at public sale, Thursday, March 4, without reserve or by-bid. The Mitchell farm is one of the richest and most productive in the county, is well drained, and nearly every acre will produce tobacco. The farm has been divided into 22 five-acre tracts and purchasers can buy one or more tracts. The farm is within one quarter mile of the city limits and will be close to the scene of the improvements soon to be inaugurated by the Louisville & Nashville railroad. 26 2t

Will Set Aside.

The question of probating the will of Mrs. Susan Hamilton, of Millersburg, was resisted by the heirs-at-law before Judge Dundon, of the County Court, Tuesday, upon the ground that Mrs. Hamilton was mentally incapacitated by reason of long illness and narcotics used to alleviate her sufferings. Judge Harmon Stitt represented the contestants, and after hearing the evidence and reading the will the court held that the will should be set aside. Mr. Samuel Proctor, son-in-law of Mrs. Hamilton, was then appointed Administrator of the estate, which consists of 180 acres, and the home place in Millersburg.

Good Investment Opportunity.

The five-acre tracts to be sold by Messrs. Wakefield, Moore & Wakefield are admirably adapted for market gardening and fruit growing purposes. Don't fail to attend the sale, Thursday, March 4. Free transportation and free lunch. 26 2t

DEATHS.

—Lucie, the pretty and attractive little babe of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Brent, of this city, passed away yesterday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock, at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wallace, in Versailles, after several days illness with erisipelas.

A few days over six months ago this little sunbeam entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brent, casting bright rays of happiness in every nook and corner of this happy home. A sweet little bud that bloomed and blossomed into a beautiful flower for a few days, then to wither away. Such things we cannot understand, but the One that gave and the One that taketh away does understand, so weep not, fond parents, your sweet little rosebud has only been transplanted in the eternal flower garden, to bloom and blossom forever more, "for of such is the kingdom of Heaven."

The fond parents have the heartfelt sympathy of this entire community in this hour of trouble.

There will be short funeral services held at the residence of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wallace, in Versailles, Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Dr. Gelson Rount.

The funeral cortege will leave Versailles on the 11 o'clock interurban car, which will arrive at the Paris cemetery gate about 11 o'clock, and short services will be held at the grave immediately afterwards by Dr. Rount.

—Mrs. John Higgins, aged about 40 years, died at her home near Shawhan last night from the effect of a paralytic stroke. Mrs. Higgins had been in ill health for some time and previous to the stroke of paralysis she received Tuesday, and which hastened her death, grave fears were expressed for her recovery. —R. H. Hanson, of Lexington, received a telegram yesterday at noon announcing the death of his brother, Attorney C. T. Hanson, of Pawhuska, Oklahoma. Mr. Hanson was born and raised in Paris, being the eldest child of the late Hon. Richard Hanson. He was at one time a member of the Bourbon County bar, moving from here to Lexington a number of years ago, and from there several years ago to Oklahoma, engaging in the practice of law at Pawhuska. He was 53 years old, and is survived by his mother, Mrs. E. T. Hanson, one sister, Mrs. Jennie Hanson Helm and one brother, R. H. Hanson, all of Lexington. The body will be brought to Lexington where the funeral services will be held and burial will take place in the family lot in the Paris cemetery.

—Frazier Parrish, aged 39 years, died at his home in Latonia Wednesday morning, of heart disease. Mr. Parrish was a well-known and prominent contractor, and lived most of his life at Cynthia, having moved recently to Latonia where he was extensively engaged in the wholesale brick business.

He was popular with a large circle of friends in this city, having often visited the relatives of his wife here, who was formerly Miss Mamie Remington, daughter of Mr. B. F. Remington. His wife survives him.

His remains were taken to his old home, Cynthia, for interment today. Funeral at the residence of his brother, Henry Parrish, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

—The funeral services of Mr. J. T. Craig, who died Sunday night at his home near Plum, this county, took place Tuesday morning from the residence, Rev. J. W. Harris, of the Methodist church, officiating. Burial at North Middletown.

Mr. Craig was 69 years of age and was a native of Bourbon. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Margaret Clarke, of Montgomery county. Mr. Craig for many years had engaged in farming and later as a merchant.

—Mr. H. M. Stitt died at his home in Carlisle, Kentucky, Tuesday morning about 11 o'clock. He was born in Nicholas county over eighty years ago, and was a brother of the late Dr. A. G. Stitt, of Millersburg. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Dunlap Howe, of Carlisle, and Mrs. Hugo Schilling, of Berkeley, Cal. The remains were interred in the Carlisle cemetery at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Stitt's death was the result of the infirmities of old age.

—Wm. Benthall, aged 89 years, died Wednesday at Seymour, Ind. Mr. Benthall formerly lived in Paris, being for many years employed by the late S. E. Tipton and the late James K. Davis, being an expert pants maker. He was the grandfather of the James Bros., who run a tailor shop on Main street.
